New substantial shareholder

Japara Healthcare Limited (“Japara”) (ASX: JHC) has been advised by interests associated with Moelis Australia (“Moelis”) that Moelis has acquired a substantial 9.96% shareholding in Japara as part of a broader investment in the residential aged care sector. Japara welcomes Moelis as a shareholder.

Japara is committed to maintaining a high level of resident care and is focused on maximizing shareholder value consistent with its previously stated integrated value creation strategy. Key drivers of Japara’s strategy include delivery of its significant development pipeline, realisation of operational efficiencies and other initiatives including improved additional services offerings.

The Board will continue to update shareholders as required.
